VARSITY VODVIL MAKES HIT WITH WELL ATTENDED HOUSE

Judges Award Cups to Kappa and Sigma Chi for Two Best Acts

Varsity Vodvil was presented last Friday night at the Wilma theater. Sigma Chi won the cup offered by the ASUM for the best fraternity act, and Kappa Kappa Gamma was awarded the cup for having the most unique act presented by any sorority. The show was managed by Melvin Lord, assisted by Phil Ring. Alpha Chi Omega presented the first act of the evening, entitled "The Pullman Blues." This was a comic singing and dancing act, with a pretty chorus, garbed in dainty pink pajamas, led by Gertrude Stevens of Butte, who did very well in her part. The singing numbers were well rendered.

"Holy Moses" was next presented by Alpha Delta Alpha. This act was original and for the most part very humorous. Pathos was well faked throughout the act, and some good clog dancing was featured. Bruce Crippen of Billings, playing the part of Moses, did well, and brought many a laugh from his audience.

Appropriate scenery, unique costumes and exceptional lighting were contained in "A Dream Garden," presented by Delta Gamma. This was a sentimental piece with well-done solo work, ending in a grand finale. The costumes were flashy and added much to the act. Evelyn Siderfin of Butte, as the Dream Boy, was the outstanding figure of this skit.

Alpha Phi presented "Myrtle of the Movies." This, too, was a singing and dancing act, built on the hopes of a movie-star dream. The singing and dancing were well done.

Sigma Chi then presented their prize act entitled "A Hot Afternoon in Montana." This act took the form of a mock trial, three professors of the English department, Professors E. L. Freeman, S. H. Cox, and H. G. Merriam being charged with upholding Eli Siegel's much criticized poem, "Hot Afternoons Have Been in Montana," and refusing to show due respect to the old masters. John Milton, Percy B. Shelley, and Edgar Allan Poe were the chief witnesses for the state. Ralph Stowe, garbed for the state.

"The Theatrical Booking Office," by Phi Delta Theta was a novelty, with a snatch of acrobatic work seldom seen in amateur vaudeville shows. Emory Gibson, appearing as a mystic lady of the East in an abbreviated costume, did well. A five-piece orchestra presented two or three popular dance numbers as a finale.

Kappa Kappa Gamma brought the evening to a fitting climax with their act, "The Diving Bell." There is no doubt but what the prize was theirs from the rising of the curtain. The costumes were extraordinary and brilliant. Raymond Hall produced some excellent lighting effects. The singing was well done, and the theme of the act was first-rate. Variety and lots of it was present in this one act. Mary P. Fleming, as the "old salt," went across quite as well in vaudeville as she has in University plays.

Illman Makes Star Team

All Northwest Conference Quint (Billy Mulligan)
Ridings, O. A. C., left forward.
Ingram, Gonzaga, right forward.
Illman, Montana, center.
Hale, Washington, right guard.

Ted (Chief) Illman was chosen all-Northwest Conference center, and Oscar Dahlberg was given honorable mention on the selection of Billy Mulligan, the well-known Spokane referee. Although Mulligan's choice was unofficial, he has refereed 12 Pacific Coast and Northwest conference games, and is generally regarded as one of the most competent officials and best judges of hoop talent in this part of the country.

Mulligan comments as follows on his choices:
"Illman of Montana has been chosen for center because he is big, very fast and plays the full 40 minutes at top speed. He is good at recovering the ball from the back-board on tip-in shots from scrimmage under the basket. He is good on the defense and holds his own consistently on the tip-off for a jump ball."

"Ridings of O. A. C. is fast, a good shot, a quick thinker and he is cool under fire. Moreover, he handles the ball well and is good on defense."

"Mel Ingram of Gonzaga is exceptionally fast. He cuts quickly on the dribble, retaining possession of the

SERVICES HELD FOR FORMER PROFESSOR

Services for the burial of Frederick D. Schwalm were held today at 3 o'clock at Marsh's chapel. Pallbearers were President C. H. Clapp, Dean A. L. Stone, and Professors F. C. Scheuch, E. F. Carey and E. L. Freeman.

Mr. Schwalm, who was formerly head of the Art Department of the University, died last week in Los Angeles after a long illness.

MOLLETT WILL EDIT U. S. DRUGGIST BOOK

Is First Montana Man to Be on "U. S. Pharmacopeia" Editorial Board

Dean E. C. Mollett of the Pharmacy school has recently received a request from the "U. S. Pharmacopeia," the national register and dictionary of all drugs, to proof-read a section of the next edition to be published.

The "Pharmacopeia of the United States" is revised once every ten years by the leading pharmacists in the United States. It is the last word of authority in the drug world so it must be very correct in detail. Proof-reading such material requires accuracy and skill combined with an expert knowledge of the subject.

Published Since 1820
The "Pharmacopeia of the United States" was first published in 1820 and since that date it has been revised and brought up to date once every ten years. The forthcoming issue will be the tenth revision of the book. Only legitimate, standard drugs are listed and defined in the book. It has never been the policy of its editors to allow any private patented drug to be listed. Everything listed in the pharmacopeia can be obtained and used by any regularly licensed druggist.

Montana a Member

The Montana School of Pharmacy was admitted into the association in 1920, and is now one of the few western pharmacy schools accepted. Among other things, any school or firm must have at least $5,000 worth of equipment to be admitted. At the present time, the Montana Pharmacy school has a little over the required $5,000 worth of equipment.

For the first time in its history, the "Pharmacopeia of the United States" will have a Montana man on its editorial board.

Montana to Meet Kansas in Debate

The Varsity debate team is now preparing for the debate with Kansas Agricultural college to be held in Main hall March 31. The question to be debated is "Congress versus Supreme Court," the question being used by intercollegiate debaters this year. The possible material for the team which will meet the Kansas Aggies are: Carl McFarland, Helen McGregor, Lewis Aronowsky, Archie Blair, and Charles Conley.

The Kansas Aggies have a formidable team this year, having won ten consecutive mid-west debates, nine by unanimous decisions.

PATHE TO FILM ART CARNIVAL

Cronyn Says Mardi Gras Will Be Display of Carnival Spirit

A Pathe News film will be taken of the Carnival and Mardi Gras which will be held Saturday night in the men's gymnasium under the auspices of the Masquers and the Art League, according to Harold Hepner, business manager. The following is a quotation from a letter of the Butte branch manager of the Pathe Exchange: "We are quite sure that this will prove popular, especially in the northwest, and as Mr. Hudson contemplates very shortly visiting Montana in connection with pictorial news items, we feel that he will accede to your request."

The Carnival and Mardi Gras plans are almost complete, and the committees in charge are: Advertising and publicity, Evan Reynolds and Annabelle Desmond; decorations, Josephine Modlin, Doris Miller and Dora Hauck; concessions, Katherine Roach and Ed Heilman; commissary, Evelyn Mechling; stunts, Nelson Fritz, Aaron Shull, Helen Carmen and Martin Hudloff; business managers, Harold Hepner and Everett Marble; floor manager, Bruce Crippen; assistant directors, Josephine Modlin, Helen Carmen, Claude Meredith and Phil Ring.

Judges for the best stunt and the most original costumes were chosen from downtown clubs. They are: Dr. F. G. Dratz, University club; P. H. Knisley, Rotary club; Alva Baird, Kiwanis club; Mrs. T. M. Pearce, As You Like It club; Mrs. G. A. Ketchum, Women's club, and Mrs. Martin J. Hutchens, American University Women's club.

"We are endeavoring to make this one of the outstanding features of the college year," said Mr. Cronyn. "We want all the students on the campus to attend the Carnival, as there will be a good time for everyone. We are extending an invitation to townspeople also. The carnival spirit will be plentiful and everyone is urged to come in costume."

MISS RHODA BAXTER ACCEPTS NEW OFFER

Head of Women's Physical Education Department Will Instruct in San Francisco

Miss Rhoda Baxter, head of the women's physical education department, will leave the University March 22 to take up her new position as instructor of physical education in one of the city high schools in San Francisco.

Miss Baxter expects to attend the summer session at the University of California to complete her course in hygiene. She will begin her work immediately after arriving.

After studying for two years at Wellesley college in Massachusetts, Miss Baxter directed physical education in one of the high schools at Springfield, Massachusetts. She came here in 1921 to continue her work and with the exception of last year, when she attended school at Berkeley, she has been at the head of the Montana department since.

KUOM Gets License; Wave Length Changed

KUOM received its class "A" limited commercial license from Washington, D. C., Friday afternoon. The wave length was changed from 242.8 meters to 244 meters. The license must be renewed every three months. Tests were made Wednesday afternoon on the new wave length and the market reports of Monday went out very well. There will be a program this evening under the direction of the school of music.

The radio sending station was built by T. E. Lennigan and R. A. Hall of the Physics department under the direction of G. D. Shallenberger. Mr. Shallenberger completed a station last year at Beloit, Wisconsin. Lennigan, Ray Hall, and L. B. Petrie are licensed operators of the station. The announcers are Hall and John Ryan.

Corbly Has Hopes As Students Vote

Students of the ASUM are voting for a Kaimin editor today, as the present editor, Richard Crandell, graduates at the end of the quarter.

Vivian Corbly, '25, is the only aspirant for the position, but according to the ASUM constitution, ballots must be cast when one or more entrant has been made for an ASUM office.

The ballot-box, of which Marcia Patterson is in charge, is located in the main hallway of the Library building, and votes may be cast there from 9 o'clock this morning until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

FINE PAINTINGS ARE EXHIBITED

Group of 27 Pictures From Taos Collection Displayed

Yesterday marked the opening to view of one of the largest and best collections of famous pictures that has ever been on exhibit in Missoula. The exhibit is that of the Taos artists' colony of Taos, New Mexico. There are 27 paintings, which are on exhibit in the library of the Forestry school throughout the week. The exhibit is being shown under the auspices of the Art department of the University. This group of pictures has been shown in practically every large city in the country.

The Taos colony began 27 years ago when Bert G. Phillips and E. L. Blumenshein, traveling west with a covered wagon train, chanced to stop in the quaint old Spanish-Indian town of Taos. The village appealed to the young artists, so they sold their wagon train and prepared to stay.

Phillips and Blumenshein were soon joined by J. H. Sharp and E. Irving Couse, the former being familiar to Montanans for his paintings of the "Crow Indians." These four men started the Taos colony, which now numbers more than 100 prominent American painters. The group is made up entirely of individual artists and does not include any particular school or theory of art.

Some of the outstanding pictures in the exhibit are "Fireside Meditation" by Couse, who is famous for his remarkable pictures of Indian life; "Hunting Sun and Buffalo Skull" and "Rendezvous in the Arroyo" by Sharp, and "My Backyard" by Ufer. Perhaps the best examples in the collection, from the standpoint of sheer beauty and brilliant coloring are "Rocks and Cedars" and "Timberline" by Birger Sandzen. "Gypsy in White," by Henri, is typical of this artist's work and is an excellent study in character, as is also "Lobelia" by Nordfelt.

The group on the whole is representative of the work of the Taos colony in the world of art, and among the collection is a section of modernist paintings which have been so much in evidence since the war. The pictures in the exhibit are valued at $25,000.

The exhibit will be shown throughout the week. A charge of 25 cents will be charged to see the art display.

Dr. G. W. Bateman of the Chemistry department will speak at the Phi Sigma meeting Wednesday evening on "Magazine Propaganda."

LITERARY MAGAZINE TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Winter Number of Frontier Will Be on Campus Thursday; Has Many New Features

"The Frontier" will be distributed on the campus Thursday, according to word given out by Professor H. G. Merriam yesterday. The distribution, because of the recent subscription campaign, have been arranged and the mailing list will be sent out tomorrow.

The Sluice Box, a new section of the magazine, will contain short sketches filled with pungent situations and vivid descriptions. The authors of these sketches will not be given, the editors letting the reader guess and discuss the probable authors who will be contributors. In this issue there will be two long stories, an adventure story of the Philippine Islands, by Jesse Lowellen, and an Indian story by Hilda Knowles Blair.

The place of honor, on the title page, has been given to some rhythmic prose by Richard F. Crandell. "The Bad Lands," by Roy Yentis; "Song of the Volga," by Joe Cochran, and "Drop Anchors," by Fred Schlick, will be in this issue.

Founders Contribute

The Founders' section contains five selections written by the original founders of the magazine, which was then known as "The Montanan." The contributors to the founders' section are: Lesla Lennstrom Rowe, Homer M. Parsons, Tate W. Peek, Mrs. Bille Whitman, Wilda Linderman and Everett Poindexter.

Other contributors to this issue are: Richard Crandell, Joe Cochran, Fred Schlick, Dorothy M. Johnson, John Frolicher, D'Arcy Dahlberg, Dorothy Mueller, Elsa Sureutz, Hilda Knowles Blair, Roy Yentis, Lorena Black, Mrs. Winifred Mueckler, Fern Johnson, John C. Dimond, and Washington J. McCormick.

1:30-4:30 p. m. Tuesday, 2 o'clock classes; Wednesday, 9 o'clock classes; Thursday, 10 o'clock classes; Friday, 3 o'clock classes.

Five Fights and Four Matches Billed on Snappy Card Tomorrow Night

Billy Kelly of Missoula and Ralph Meagher of Hamilton will feature in the main bout of the "M" club tournament tomorrow night and will settle the heavyweight title of the University. Bill Kelly is a known fighter in Missoula, having the record of staying with Gibbons through an exhibition bout in '23. Meagher looms up as a mysterious leather-pusher, though it is known that he has conducted himself successfully through many difficult brawls.

Five boxing bouts and four wrestling matches will be on the card for the evening. Wallace Brennan will referee the bouts and Doc Schreiber the matches. The bouts will last three two-minute rounds and the matches six minutes or to a fall.

W. Hodges and Rundle First

The opening fight will be between William Hodges of Great Falls and Earl Rundle of Belfield, N. D. Both men are bantamweights of lightning-speed caliber and will be a choice treat for the fans.

Don Shattuck, Boulder, and Kenneth Niles, Livingston, are lightweights. Both boys pack a crepe-hanging wallop and a knockout may be expected if either one connects.

Pugy Ford, student at the Forestry school, and winner of the mid-division last year, will tangle with Steve Hansen of Lewistown in the welterweight class. A display of speed and drive and a barrage of heavy blows will put one or the other of the fighters in a position for a dreamy finish.

Joe Cochran of Billings and Albert Seeley of Ringling are two of the cleverest fighters that ever appeared in an "M" club tournament. They will fight in the welterweight class. Both men have been in training for the past year, and will stage a fierce battle for the welterweight title.

Wrestlers Promise Hot Frays

Midge Griffiths will present an array of wrestlers of quality never seen before on the Montana campus. Two of the men will defend their titles. Stepanstov, welterweight champ, will defend his title when he meets Winniford. Both men will work fast for the coveted fall.

Brewer and Cornell, middleweights, will struggle for the unclaimed belt of the middleweight champion. The match will be interesting as neither of the boys know how to carry on a slow bout.

Moe, heavyweight champ, will meet Murray in a crushing match. Both men have had enough experience to be of professional material, and will strive frantically to capture the belt.

Midge Griffith, head of the wrestling class, will meet a wrestler who has not been selected as yet in the classic mat fight of the night.

Receipts for "M" Club

The tournament is held under the auspices of the "M" club and receipts go toward defraying its expenses. The admission will be 50 cents for students and ringside 75 cents. General admission for the public is $1 and ringside $1.50. The judges will be Jim Stewart, Fay Clark and Doc Schreiber. The tourney will be held on the main floor of the gymnasium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The finals in the elimination series were held last Friday afternoon.

ART DEPARTMENT CLOSED WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

The Art department will be closed Wednesday afternoon in memory of Professor Frederick D. Schwalm, former head of the department, who died in Los Angeles last week.

Isabelle West passed the week-end at her home in Bozeman.

On Leaving

THE new editor will assume his duties Friday, March 13. We wish him the best of luck on a lucky day. V. D. (Crab) Corby, the only nominee for the office, has been one of the hardest workers in the shack this year. He is well qualified to carry on the work as editor.

To the whole staff we extend our thanks for their co-operation during the past two quarters. The man on the desk is sometimes a veritable demon to the eyes of reporters, but it is all in the day's work. There are many of the staff we might mention as having done very unselfish work for the University in getting out the various editions. Their labors do not go unappreciated.

The past two quarters have gone swiftly and there is a little regret as we bring the last edition to a close. We made no promises last spring to reform the whole University with the power of the Kaimin, but have done our best. The Kaimin has been enlarged to a seven-column sheet and has been on the campus on the average of one hour earlier than previous years. As to its contents and interest only the whole group of students may be the judge.

We would like to make one final plea to members of the University as the ink of our editorial pen threatens to dry up. Four years on the campus has been enough to drive home the impression that Montana has a future. As future citizens of the state and representatives of the University, we plead for faith in this institution. Have faith in Montana. Adios!

Possibilities

BY astounding new knowledge concerning the functioning of various body glands, a group of British surgeons claim to have cured almost every human frailty. The treatment, an injection of gland extracts, is purported to be a panacea for mental as well as physical disorders.

They report that a six-foot youth, an abject coward, was converted into a veritable caveman by a few treatments. A bad temper threatened to ruin the marital happiness of another man. He was treated with the extract and now he and his wife live peacefully.

Interesting, if true; and, in spite of the ludicrous east of the whole thing, we are living in an age in which nothing is regarded as impossible. The absent minded professor may some day be a thing of the past. Soon one may grow thin without dieting and grow fat without overeating.

Although the surgeons point out that the extract will not prove efficacious in all cases, the number of cures is increasing. The next step is quantity production. Then, if the desire for peace can be imparted to all men, there will be no war.—Daily Californian.

The election for Kaimin editor today is rather a farce. One man, a good one and highly capable of handling the work, is running. The blank space for writing in names may play havoc with his unselfish expression of interest in running, but we feel that the ASUM is wasting time and money in holding such an election. Next spring's election should carry an amendment permitting the selection of Kaimin editor by the faculty of the Journalism school and the members of the outgoing board. Who is more in touch with the capabilities of candidates?

THE GRIST

"The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceeding fine."

Our Girl

She was buying her daily package of cigarettes at the campus store when Prexy stepped up to the counter.

"Does he drink to excess?"
 "Merely to excel."

Subconscious Simpson

He left his shoes in the sun to get tan.

As one section hand would say to another—

As the clerk would say to the customer—

"Our stock of ties is quite complete."

Now that we have a salesmanship course the campus store will be selling Whizz Bangs for textbooks.

Solman vuz a salesman,
 Quite different from the rest,
 He carried his jewelry samples
 All on the front of his vest.

Inasmuch as salesmanship is one of those practical subjects, we can expect the following courses:

Ticket dispensing, 12abc. Prerequisite—Bear Paw or Tann. Will be given during the entire year, and special emphasis will be placed on tag day work, as well as giving student much practice in making change.

Old Clothes Dispensing, 11a. This is an elementary course, and is given only during the spring quarter when individual work can be done in fraternity houses.

Magazine Selling, 13a. This course will place special emphasis on the vicious dog problem, how to cultivate a smile, door bell ringing and hat tipping. Prof. Crimmins.

When the Grist is short and we need some filler
 We slip a ditty like this one in.

The above two lines were not enough
 So we wrote two more of similar stouph.

Ten Years Ago

Students of the University took their annual sneak day on President Craighead's birthday. The students dressed in grotesque costumes and led by the students' drum corps marched around the oval and then to the president's house where he was forced to make a speech. The remainder of the day was spent in games and songs.

By hooping two baskets to the University's one, the Montana Aggies won a close game from the home team by a score of 29-27. The battle was of the closest nature all the way through with Montana leading at the end of the half.

The University of Montana took the basketball title from the State College by forfeit when the latter refused to play a third game to play off the now existing tie. This is the first time in history that the University has taken the basketball title.

Ex-Senator Dixon spoke before the students of the School of Journalism on the "Press Gallery" at the capitol. He told in his speech of his experiences with newspaper men in his political life.

The sophomores of the University took the annual tug-of-war on points after they had struggled with their junior rivals for one hour. The contest was given to the second year men because the frosh were unable to hold the three feet of extra rope that they were allowed at the beginning of the contest. Neither team went through the slough.

Dr. J. P. Rowe of the department of Geology of the University of Montana, has received official notice that he has formally been elected to a position in the geology department at Harvard. He has made no decision as yet.

NOTICE

Because of conflicting dates, the regular meeting of the Interfraternity Council will be postponed until Wednesday, March 18, at the Templar house.

JACK NORVELL, President.

"MONTANA ALUMNUS" MAILED THIS MONTH

Will Be Sent Only to Those Who Have Paid Price of Subscription

"Only those alumni who have paid up subscriptions will be sent the Montana Alumnus," said Helen Newman, editor, in speaking of the issue that will be off the press late this month. Heretofore the official alumni publication has been sent to all Montana alumni regardless of the paid subscription fees.

"In this publication, all the names of the alumni and their addresses will be listed as they appear in the alumni register, in the hopes that corrections will be sent in from new addresses of the alumni," said Miss Newman.

A feature of this issue will be an account of the new radio station recently installed on the campus and information concerning the broadcasting schedules.

Class notes, athletics, feature stories and personal stories of several alumni will go to make up the balance of this issue.

The Montana Alumnus is published four times during the college year.

WOOF!

Ardent Eater Pleads for Puppies

Pupils or pups? Which shall it be? Shall the University of Montana continue as an institution of higher learning or shall we turn it into a canine farm?

The latest registration figures from the office of J. B. Speer reveal the fact that some 1,200 students now tread the University campus. When the city dog catcher brings himself to the University grounds in search of non-licensed bow-wows, he will think he has made a mistake and gone to the fox farm or some such place where four-legged beasts abound.

Yes, our University may well be proud of its hounds. We have all breeds from police dogs to poodles. The Airedale species leads in numbers. Forty-five of these fuzzy fidoes are now running wild on the campus. They are fine healthy brutes that should look quite tempting between two hunks of bread, and Vincent Crimmins is already watching them in prospective glee.

Let us take care of our dogs and promote better feeling among them. Almost every day the curs wage ferocious battle, and this must be stopped if we are to munch hot-dogs in the bleachers next fall.

CO-ED RIFLE TEAM STARTS LAST MATCH

The women's rifle team began firing yesterday for its last match of the season against the University of Vermont team. Firing will continue for the remainder of this week in order to send the scores to the match judges not later than next Saturday. Returns will not be learned until early next quarter.

The same line-up that has fired throughout the season for the University will take part in the contest.

Medals will be awarded to the five team members with the highest averages for the season by Major George L. Smith, team coach and advisor.

There are 34 professors, five associate professors, 25 assistant professors, 19 instructors and 10 assistant instructors comprising the faculty of the University of Montana.

Football letters and blankets were awarded 23 men at the University of Nevada.

REGISTRAR TO ASK FOR EXPENSE DATA

A questionnaire blank has been arranged by the registrar's office to be handed out to all students at the time of registration for the spring quarter. The blank expresses the wish that the blank be filled out in detail and returned with the registration cards to the registrar's office.

Names of students are not asked for and all information will be confidential. The data is desired by the University for making comparisons of costs with other colleges and for the information of the student employment secretary and the student loan committee.

Besides the above information asked for, an estimate of living expenses, including board, room, fees, books, stationery, clothing, laundry, traveling expenses, recreation and amusements, organizations belonged to, health, not including health service, life insurance, and other expenditures is also desired by the registrar's office.

Sources of income are also wanted, including allowances from parents, income from employment, earnings prior to this college year, and amounts secured by loans and other sources.

This information is asked for all on one sheet of paper in a conveniently arranged form.

ROTC Calls for Men to Attend Encampment

The ROTC will launch its spring drive early next week in an effort to enlist candidates for the annual summer camp that will be held from June 15 to August 1 at Camp Lewis, Washington. As yet no one has signed up, but this year's representation from Montana is expected to outnumber all previous totals.

The University of Texas awards medals to the athletes who have the highest scholastic standings. Varsity team members receive gold medals, and the first reserve silver medals.

CLIPPED

Pharaoh's Slaves Set Style for Co-Eds

Old man Pharaoh had the correct idea when he told his women to bob their hair. What good was long "Pear's Soap advertisement" hair to the winsome young wenches who were subjected to the routine of wood carving, fire-building, gardening, and sundry other scullery jobs? I ask you, what good was it? So did Pharaoh; at any rate, the "woikin'" women in those good old days had bobbed locks... the Pharaohites had their women trained.

Centuries passed and women were released from their heavier drudgeries of life. They began to beautify themselves, let their hair grow, and dabbed tints of carmen upon their alabaster cheeks, that the hairy-chested sex may behold the beauty and be pleased.

And then came a terrible World War. Women were again forced to take the place of men in commercial walks of life. Again the question arose as to the practicability of long hair, together with thoughts of long tresses and feminine ways. The decision was reached and long locks along with long tresses and feminine ways were put on the "not being done" list.

On the campus today, of 168 women, all but 64 have bobbed hair. The girls are all set for the garden and the scullery, but can you fathom Pharaoh taking a gawk at the modern boppers with hair shaved nearly completely off and the remaining tufts snuck down with the odorous Glee, lips the color of a sergeant's tongue, and faces powdered to the whiteness of a mummy's? And to top it all, dresses clipped to the knees, displaying a variety of curves, bow legs and knocked knees, and stockings even below the rusty-looking middle joints of their pedal extremities.

Personally, we're all for the women and their bobbed hair and knocked knees, but the gist of this article is to put across the fact that 448 of Montana's fair coeds are copying the hair-dressing of Pharaoh's women.

A right start in life is a career half made.

SISSON ADDRESSES STANFORD STUDENTS

"Realism Is Primary Need of Education," He Says

"Every person has the right to learn anything he needs to know in order to do his thinking," said Edward O. Sisson, former president of the University, in an address before a Stanford university audience recently. His speech in part is as follows:

"Idealism is a primary need of our education. We need a truer history, both past and present, in order to prevent such beliefs as that of the superiority of the past to the present. We don't hear about the profiteering involved in the Valley Forge incident. Good points in our history are also neglected, such as the effective disarmament which has existed along our Canadian border since 1817.

"Representative government as an essential part of our democracy, and in order for it to be effective, our schools must stimulate the capacity to trust and be trusted."

Dr. Sisson left the University in June, 1921, to become a professor of education at Reed college at Portland.

Sophomore Girls Win in First Class Game

By a score of 20-17 the sophomore girls' basketball team won from the juniors in the first game of the interclass basketball series. The game was played in the women's gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

The score at the end of the first half stood 11-7 in favor of the sophomores, who outplayed the juniors during the entire game. Margaret Sterling and Marjorie Woodfolk, forwards for the sophomores, were the outstanding players.

All women with bobbed hair are required to pay a kind of poll tax in Bath, England. According to one of the mountaineers, this tax income was derived from the powdered hair of former days there, and it is believed that the bobbed hair tax will fill that vacancy.

Eight candidates from last year's frosh squad, many former candidates, and new material have swelled Stowe's squad considerably, until about 25 men are now out. Billy Kelly, catcher on the frosh squad last year, is generally conceded to be the most likely candidate for the backstop berth this year. Other candidates for the job are Carl Woods and Pete Miller.

Mr. Pettit left Friday for the flying school, and upon the completion of this course will receive a commission as second lieutenant in the Officers Reserve corps. While at the school the government furnishes the students $75 a month and board, room and clothing.

LIBRARY BOARD FINISHES TOUR

Missoula Is Last Stop on Inspectors' Trip; Hold Two Conferences

Arriving in Missoula early yesterday, the board of education for the University of Montana, which is inspecting the libraries in the larger colleges west of the Mississippi, passed a busy day visiting and inspecting the Missoula Public Library and the University Library. The board is making this tour of inspection for the purpose of bettering and extending the scope of the public and college libraries and to make a survey of the library courses as taught in the schools and to report the needs of the libraries to the association.

After inspecting the Missoula Public Library in the morning the board held a conference with President Clapp. At noon they were entertained at a luncheon as the guests of the University club.

In the afternoon the board inspected the buildings on the campus and at 4 o'clock they met in conference with the library heads here. Individual members of the board also talked with several students who are interested in library work.

Gertrude Buckhouse, librarian, showed the visitors through the campus buildings.

The Colloquium club had the board as its guests at dinner at North hall last night.

Mr. Andrew Keogh, librarian at the Yale University library, in commenting on the trip, said:

"This is the last leg on our tour. We started from Chicago February 21 and have been on the go ever since. We visited the public libraries at St. Louis, Austin, Texas, Los Angeles, Berkeley and Riverside, California; Portland and Seattle and now Missoula. From here we go to Chicago where we will rest before making our formal report on our inspection tour. We will have a meeting there, write our impressions of the trip and submit our report to the association. A copy of this report will not be ready for publication until about May. Then we will disband, after making our report and will go to our homes. We are sure tired—have not had a minute to ourselves since we left Chicago."

The members of the board who are making this tour of inspection are: Adam Berman, chairman of the Detroit Public Library; Sarah C. N. Bogle, secretary of the board and Harold E. Hoke, executive assistant of Chicago; Harrison W. Graver, of the Engineering Society Library, New York City; Andrew Keogh, librarian at Yale University Library; Elizabeth M. Smith of the Albany Free Library and Mahalia G. West of the Denver Public Library.

UNIVERSITY OFFERS DEGREES TO SENIORS

Registrar's Office Warns Students to Take Courses Included in Applications

"One hundred and fifty applications for degrees have been accepted by the registrar's office, degrees to be conferred at the end of the spring quarter," said Lucile Jameson, assistant registrar.

Seventy-eight B. A. degrees will be granted to students in the Arts and Science school; 15 B. A. degrees to students in the School of Business Administration; eight students will be granted B. S. degrees in Forestry; nine law students will receive both J. D. B. and B. A. degrees; five will receive degrees in music; 20 will receive either B. S., Ph. G., or Ph. C. degrees in Pharmacy, and 15 will receive B. A. degrees in Journalism.

The total number, 150, to be granted at the end of the spring quarter exceeds last June's total by 45.

"It is imperative," said Miss Jameson, "that those students whose applications for degrees have been accepted, take the subjects during the spring quarter that were included in the application for degrees. Any senior student making a change in spring quarter registration from the schedule designated in applications for degrees, should inform the registrar's office of such changes."

University of Nevada.—All students at the University of Nevada who wished to do so, recently went to Carson to see the state legislature at work. All cuts were excused provided that the students could bring back enough information to show that they had attended the session. The trip is an old tradition.

GHASTLY

As Co-Ed Sees Manly Arts at Gym

Blood, hot blood, sports from the masters of the fighters. Boxing matches and no junk tea affairs. They are manly, manly, undignified, ghoulish, and primitive.

The fight between Carter and Hansen, last week at the men's gymnasium was not a pretty bout. Carter's facial appearance proved that his opponent scored effectively, often beaming his face with blood. He reeled once, staggered and fell. The referee counted six and the decision went to Hansen. Poor Carter was down and out.

Wrestling, another phase of brute force, was participated in. Stepauskoff and Hansen stepped on the mat placing their arms around one another. Mighty alapa re-echoed round the arena. Then Step grabbed Hansen around the foot. Immediately after Step was upon him and squeezing him to death. What an Arab Step would be!

TWENTY-EIGHT MEN REPORT FOR FOOTBALL

Additions to the spring football squad which now totals 28 men, are wanted by Coach Click Clark. A falling mercury, chilling blasts from old Hellgate and snow flurries kept the spring gridders from the field yesterday afternoon.

The majority of the men out for the spring squad are from the freshman class. Only three members of the Varsity squad have reported this spring. Track and baseball will take several of the football men from the spring squad.

PRESS CLUB TO MEET WITH FORESTERS SOON

There will be a joint meeting of the Press club and the Forestry club in the forestry building, Wednesday, March 18, according to Vivian Corby, president of the club.

The meeting is called for the purpose of a general get-together before the ending of the quarter. Entertainment will be furnished by the Press club and the Forestry students will furnish food for the members.

Varsity Track Men Show Class

Cinder Prospects Look Better This Spring as Season Opens

The Varsity track squad showed a wealth of material in its initial workout on the indoor track at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. The cinder artists will be exceptionally strong in the sprint events, the mile, the low hurdles, the shot put and the pole vault, while in the high jump, high hurdles, discus, javelin, middle distances and to two-mile, good prospects may develop into real material before the first contest.

Russell Sweet will run the 100 and 220-yard events. Sweet made some good time in both of these events in the class meet a year ago when he clipped the 100 in 10 flat and the 220 in 22 flat. Heman Stark, who placed in the sprint events in both conference dual meets last year, is also out and expects to try the 440 distance. Milton Ritter, who showed much promise in the quarter-mile last year, will have a better chance with a year's experience to his credit. Ritter also placed in the dual meets last year and barely missed getting a place in the conference meet. Arnold Gillette, the Ferguson county Nurni, is Montana's principal asset in the mile. Last year he ran the mile in 1 minutes and 32 seconds, and did the half mile in 2 minutes and 35 seconds. Under competition he ought to do even better. Hanson ran with the frosh last year and at present is out to see what he can do in the two mile. Lowry, Seeley and Simpson will try out for the middle distance runs.

The Grizzly track squad is blessed with hurdlers. In Lynn Thompson, Clarence Coyle, Clarence Spaulding, Howard Varney, Marvin Porter and Albert Berg. Berg placed in the Idaho meet last year in both of the hurdle races. Force Baney, who last year won the pole vault at Idaho and took second at Washington State, will be out to do his usual 11½ feet. Clinton Rule, a member of the 1923 squad, who that year won the high jump from W.S.A. and Idaho, will be the leading jumper on the Grizzly squad. Sweet can broad jump about 20 feet and ought to do better with a little practice.

Captain Axtell, Al Blumenthal and Warren Maudlin will take care of the weight events. Blumenthal last year put the shot 43 feet in the Olympic tryouts. He also throws the discus around 135 feet, consistently. Axtell puts the shot 42 feet and hopes to do even better this year. Maudlin also throws the discus around 135 feet and two years ago beat out John Shaffer twice in that event. Maudlin throws the javelin, an event in which Coyle is expected to show real form.

Three dual meets are on the schedule as well as the Relay Carnival held in Seattle under the auspices of the University of Washington, and the conference meet, which may be held at Pullman this year.

Last year the track team did not appear at home and as a result there was little interest in that branch of athletics.

The track schedule:
Annual University of Washington relay games at Seattle, May 2.
Washington State college dual meet at Pullman, May 9.
Montana State college, dual meet at Missoula, May 16.
University of Idaho, dual meet, at Missoula, May 23.
Pacific Coast Conference meet, either at Pullman or Eugene, May 29 and 30.

ARAB

Midge Griffith Takes a Tumble

The sporting world has read with shrugs of disappointment, and nods in recognition of the subduing power of the deadlier sex of Dempsey's, or is it Mrs. Dempsey's decision to muffle his ears to the clanging kong. Soon the sport fans of the campus will read with regret of Midge Griffith's resolution to forsake the canvas mat for a reason not so much unlike that of the title holder's.

Midge, who was tutored by the popular French grappler, Cote, and often has been heralded as the light-weight wrestling champion of the University, feels now that it has all been a foolish waste of time. He is going to give up his daily work-outs. He will be absent from the training board, and week-end nights won't find him in bed at 10 bells. The man who so often has proclaimed himself a misogynist, who maintained he would never bow-tow to any woman, who preferred peace and freedom from feminine complications, has pitched a tent, has become an Arab. He began his new career with a date last Sunday night.

Professor Louis Stone and Professor Robert Matthews, both former law school instructors here, are teaching at Ohio State University.

Dean Sedman will be a dinner guest at North hall Wednesday and will give a short talk to the Greek hall girls.

Other Campuses

University of Michigan.—The Blue Kappa society, an honorary organization instituted for the purpose of extending hospitality to visiting athletes and to those competing in other intercollegiate competitions, has been sanctioned by the officials at the University of Michigan, and will be put into operation at once. Membership will be limited to 40 members, 20 juniors being chosen each year for a two-year term.

University of Washington.—Washington co-eds, in the garb of Indians, will pitch their tepees on the campus this week to carry on a three-day drive for subscriptions to the Tree, University of Washington year book. This campaign follows a barrage of nearly 200 letters mailed out to students not yet solicited for subscriptions to the book.

University of Utah.—Sophomores of the University of Utah decided on a distinctive fashion of dress for the men. Red and black plaid stag shirts received a majority vote.

The shirts will be of the typical stag shirt design, open collar, low pockets, and wide waist band. Some question was raised as to the advisability of red and black as a color, but was soon settled in view of the fact that the louder the better is the theme of collegiate dress this year.

University of California.—Student social conditions on and off the campus are being investigated by a committee of welfare council members at the University of California.

KREISLER

Surpasses All Hopes for Music-Lovers

Fritz Kreisler, foremost of the world's violinists, made his first Missoula appearance before a filled house at the Wilma theater Saturday evening. After playing an extended program, and responding to many encores, he was still reelled by his appreciative audience.

Advance notices were only a weak indication of the artistry and charm of the great violinist, which combines rare skill and personal appeal into one magnetic personality. The recital was a musical event for Missoula in every sense of the word, and the memory of the great artist will linger after he has been long departed.

Carl Lamson, accompanist on the piano, contributed greatly to the perfection of the concert.

Sigma Alpha held a fireside Saturday evening.
